

Blogging

What is a blog?

A blog is a website used to give information. Visitors to blogs can leave comments about the information and pictures on the site.

Blog post

title / photo / text

amazing Owls
Posted on July 10, 2019 by dlatte

text

Barn Owls are carnivores. Barn Owls eat rats. Etienne

This entry was posted in BLOG. Bookmark the permalink.

— Amazing bats

1 Response to amazing Owls

kimf says:

July 18, 2019 at 12:35 pm

I liked that the text matches the picture and I liked the font. Well Done!

comment

Creating a blog

Write the text to go on the blog. Do not include personal information. Ask a question that visitors can respond to. Find and upload a photo saved on the computer. Only upload photos that you have permission to use. Only use your own words and do not copy and paste text from other websites.

Writing effective comments

Always be polite and respectful when leaving comments. Write a relevant comment that is related to the blog post. Compliment the author, ask a question or add new information. Use correct spelling, punctuation and grammar. Read through your comment to check it makes sense.

Key vocabulary

comment	Something you write to give your opinion.
personal information	Details about yourself such as your name, address and phone number.
upload	Transfer files or data from a computer onto the Internet.

Using a blog safely

Ask an adult for help when using the Internet. Do not give out your personal information. Tell an adult if you feel uncomfortable or worried when on the Internet.

